GBGB IMPARTIALITY COMMITTEE APPOINTS NEW MEMBERS

The GBGB Impartiality Committee is pleased to confirm the appointment of Robert Quest and Professor Madeleine Campbell as its newest committee members.

Robert joins the committee bringing a wealth of welfare, regulatory and licensing experience as Assistant Director of the City of London Corporation Animal Health and Welfare Team. Robert has also been a member and chair of various Local Government Association panels and Defra boards and is the local authority representative for both the Canine and Feline Sector Group and Companion Animal Sector Council.

Madeleine is an experienced and highly qualified veterinary surgeon who is a Professor of Veterinary Ethics at the University of Nottingham and a Senior Lecturer in Ethics and Human: Animal Interactions at the Royal Veterinary College. She has extensive experience as Chair or member of numerous panels and working groups at institutions including the Royal Veterinary College, the Zoological Society of London and the British Veterinary Association. Madeleine has previously worked as a greyhound track vet and is a current member of the GBGB Disciplinary Committee.

The Impartiality Committee is a key element of GBGB's UKAS accreditation for the inspection and licensing of tracks. The committee, which comprises an independent group of individuals with relevant expertise, assesses and monitors the consistency and impartiality of GBGB's track inspection and licensing activities. In taking up their places, Robert and Madeleine join current committee members Michael Elks (Chair) and Peter Laurie.

Antony Collins stepped down as a member of the Impartiality Committee in 2020. We would like to thank Antony for his excellent contributions and support of the committee's work.
