NEW HOMING INFORMATION LEAFLET FOR RETIRED GREYHOUNDS

GBGB has created a new leaflet to support trainers to exchange important health and behavioural information to the new owner of a retired greyhound.

As well as basic identification and veterinary information, the leaflet enables trainers to detail any prior health conditions or injuries that a greyhound may have had, as well as behavioural traits and current reactions to the sort of stimuli they may find in a domestic environment. Providing this information is a key condition of GBGB's Responsible Homing Policy to support each greyhound in securing a long, happy retirement after its racing career.

The leaflet also contains a tear-off declaration page which can be kept by the greyhound's racing owner or trainer. This should be signed by the new owner or homing centre, stating that they have taken ownership of the greyhound and that they will meet its ongoing welfare and veterinary needs.

Commenting on the initiative, Paula Beniston, GBGB Welfare Manager, said:

"We have designed this leaflet to be an easy tool for trainers to use. For the adopter or homing charity receiving the greyhound, it means they have all the information they need in one place, and they are equipped with everything they need to know about the specific dog, from dates of their last worming treatment to any specific behavioural characteristics.

"Although it is voluntary document, we hope that trainers will find it to be useful and that, ultimately, it will help facilitate successful homing placements for our retired athletes."

All GBGB racecourses will be sent a supply of the leaflets to be distributed to their trainers. If any trainer would like copies sent to them directly, please email welfare@gbgb.org.uk

TRAINER GUIDANCE: KENNEL FIRST AID KIT

GBGB recommends that every residential kennel has a fully stocked, in-date and well-maintained first aid kit for dogs. This should contain appropriate basic supplies such as bandages, primary wound dressings and other suitable materials. It should be kept on site in case of emergencies and all staff should be trained in its use.

Your veterinary surgeon will be able to advise on the appropriate contents for your kennel's first aid. Example contents may include:

- Gloves for the handler
- Cotton wool
- Antiseptic wipes marketed for use on dogs (for cleaning minor wounds)
- Sterile water for flushing wounds
- Dog thermometer
- Bandage scissors (blunt ended and preferably curved)
- Thick towel
- Large cloth blanket
- Box/basket muzzle
- Foil/space blanket
- Paw mittens
- Simple canine antiseptic cream
- Paraffin gauze
- Melolin style dressings
- 1-2cm Elastoplast
- Zinc oxide tape
- Open weaved dressings
- Orthopaedic-style pressed cotton bandage
- Vetrap (or similar)

In any event that a greyhound sustains an injury at the kennels, prompt veterinary advice must be obtained. It is a requirement to have up-to-date contacts details for your local emergency veterinary provision (including out of hours) on display in the kennels so that they can be quickly and easily accessed.

First aid treatment, such as the bandaging or dressing of an injury, is only a temporary measure and should not lead to a delay in obtaining any necessary veterinary treatment.

When any routine treatment is given at the kennels (such a topical antiseptics) this must be recorded in the Trainer's Treatment Book.

IMPORTANT NOTICES

Complaints

The Greyhound Board of Great Britain will receive complaints in confidence from anyone concerned about a possible breach of the Rules of Racing. Send emails to complaints@gbgb.org.uk or call the GBGB office on 020 7822 0900. Alternatively, write to:
